DENT IN HUN LINES 10 MILES DEEP

Paris, July 19.—The great Allied offensive was resumed at dawn today on an extended line as Americans and French swept forward over a 25-mile front between the Aisne and the Marne. Franco-American and Italian forces were conducting another counter-smash from the Marne northeast toward Rheims. The French official statement reported an initial push. The German dangerous salient in the Marne is now under assault from both sides.

The British made successful raids at Lore, taking prisoners and machine guns. Enemy attacks around Vilers-Bretenneaux were broken up. Field Marshal Haig reported.

Germany may be preparing for a bold stroke with her navy. Dispatches from London said that it was authoritatively reported that there is great activity in the German great fleet at Kiel.

Development of the American smash today left no doubt that the doughboys had carried fresh snap and dash into the Allied operations on the western front. Advancing like veterans behind the little French "fly tanks" Americans made quick work cleaning up towns and field positions of the enemy. One American unit alone took 3,300 prisoners in the fighting up to 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Officers had the greatest difficulty in restraining their men from going forward. Enemy resistance was quickly broken down at most points. Panic-stricken by the huge numbers of Americans pouring in on them in unexpected numbers, the enemy abandoned artillery, machine guns, rifles and supplies of all kinds. Between the Aisne and the Ourcq an American unit took 150 pieces of artillery.

At some points the American advance was so rapid that the cooks rolling up their kitchen forward were unable to keep up with their customers. One American commander repeatedly sought permission to allow the troops to advance beyond their objectives.

"I fear it would be too much the boys can't go that far," his superior said.

"The hell they can't," the commander retorted, "anywhere I ask my boys to go they go."

Americans returning from the front slightly wounded were full of pep and displayed bags of souvenirs. One boy told Fred S. Ferguson, United Press staff correspondent at the front, that the Germans left the trenches at the approach of the Americans and fled eastward.

"It sure gave me a glorious feeling to see the 'heinie' scrambling around like rats," he declared.

Another said "me and another fellow in the first wave was lucky. We got more of 'em and more souvenirs than the clean up bunch that came over after us."

The Americans made clean work of woods, forests, towns and villages. The advancing infantry did not carry machine guns; they depended mostly on rifles, bayonets and guns. Later the supporting infantry carried up machine guns then came the artillery and later the heavy artillery were brought up as the Yankees established their positions. American reserves riding along on trucks ate slum and beans as they bounced over the uneven road. They had not eaten in 24 hours, but were grinning over the rapidity of the advance and the prospect of eating some of the "heimies".

American, French and Italians continued today to carry the battle on the western front toward the enemy. Violent action occurred over a front of 100 miles. Despite the employment of one-half of the reserves, the Germans were unable to stem the Allied tide. In the region of Soissons the Germans threw great masses of men into desperate counter attacks. After bloodily repulsing the Boche the Americans went through the reinforced lines to substantial gains.

Soissons, one of the most important strategic centers held by the Germans, is expected to fall into the French and American hands soon. It is said the Germans are destroying large quantities of stuff to prevent it falling into the Allies' hands.

The Allies have taken the initiative and the Germans are on the defensive everywhere, an official statement issued by the Allied high command, declared this afternoon. The statement was issued at 4 p. m.

In the first smash today the Americans advanced to a depth of from 2 to 4 miles over a 25 mile front between the Aisne and the Marne. The total penetration in the two days has been more

CALL THE PROGRESS

If it is true we will have it; if you hear it and it sounds like news and you're not sure, call us; we will have it, alright. Otherwise, go slow on rumors just now.

AN EXTRACT FROM THE FRENCH REPORT

than 10 miles at some points. Eager Americans have swept forward far beyond the objectives marked out for them.

Northeast of Chateau-Thierry French and Italians with some Americans launched another offensive over a 15 mile front simultaneously with the resumption of the Aisne-Marne drive. The effect of this has been to put the enemy in a most dangerous position near Rheims, threatening great bodies of troops with annihilation or capture.

Military authorities today declared that it is entirely probable that the greatest netting of German prisoners in the history of the western front fighting will result unless Hindenburg abandons his present position on the western front. Prisoners taken are literally beyond estimation. They are pouring back of the Allied lines so rapidly that they have been declared a hindrance to the advance. The French early today counted more than 10,000 prisoners taken by their own troops. One American unit alone had taken 3,300 prisoners.

It is entirely probable that the Americans have taken 20,000 so far. The count of big guns, field pieces and artillery is only partial.

Two divisions—the Rainbow and the New Englanders—are engaged in the great offensive as a unit. Parts of eight other American divisions participated in the check of the enemy on the Marne. In addition to the two divisions other American divisions are brigaded with the French. Americans in France now total 1,300,000 and it is likely one-fifth are chasing the Hun on the Soissons-Chateau-Thierry road and up and down the Marne. Up to a late hour the situation was considered very satisfactory and highly encouraging to the Allies. A marked slump in the German morale is so prominent that the Kaiser had not dared to tell his people that the Americans were largely responsible for the great German reverses.

The latest bulletin was received at The Progress office last evening about ten o'clock at which time it was reported that the American forces had taken four thousand prisoners and thirty big guns along with other war material. Previous to this dispatch, Pershing and the department at Washington had fully confirmed the United Press dispatches carried in this paper in the afternoon to the effect that the Yanks had captured many towns and added that the advance into Hun territory had reached as much as four miles on certain points.

This morning great jubilation was felt and manifested in many nearby cities over the reports of the successes of the Yanks and this enthusiasm has continued throughout the day. In Altoona patriotic engineers have given vent to their feelings by the blowing of whistles at frequent intervals. These outbursts of enthusiasm are to a great degree responsible for the wild rumors over the country today.

At nine o'clock this morning the situation was as follows: "Yanks had thrown Huns back four to five miles."

Had taken at least eighteen villages and towns.

Had taken four thousand prisoners and 30 big guns.

A dispatch received at ten o'clock stated as follows:

"Franco-American forces continue advance in the vicinity of Chateau-Thierry and now are within sight of Soissons. French have taken 10,000 prisoners and the Yanks have a string of 5,000."

The canning demonstration at the High school auditorium yesterday afternoon was well attended by Clearfield housewives who showed great interest in the work of Miss Margaret Berry of the Home Economics Extension department of State College.

The demonstration was in charge of Miss Philip Reed, chairman and Miss Berry was assisted by Miss Lillie Wrigley and Lida Stage who recently took a canning course at State College and are ready to give local demonstrations.

SOFT AS NAILS

"The Soft American Troops"—The Kaiser.

They were "soft along last Summer. When they answered to the call, And the town turned out to see 'em marching past the City Hall—"

Pale of face, and sort of straggly, slouching figures on parade, Not a man among the line-up who had located the soldier's trade.

Put a year has made a difference, and these links of yours and mine, Are about as soft as shrapnel when they hit the German line.

Mighty husky looking soldiers when they next showed up in town, Colored like their khaki tunics where the sun had burned 'em brown.

Trim of waist and square of shoulder, with a steady swinging gait, And an easy, breezy bearing that was good to contemplate;

Kindly men, and full of sun-hine, gentle mannered and polite, But about as soft as wildcats once they mix up in a fight.

All the officers that is in 'em they are saying for the day, When they've won the last big battle and they put their guns away.

When with shouting, cheering thousands all the old home-street are lined, And they come to get the welcome of the girls they left behind.

But until their job is over and they've got their business through, They'll be just as soft as men to the Kaiser and his crew!

Women as "walking delegates" promise to become numerous with the rapid increase in the number of women workers. The Washington State Federation of Labor has already voted in favor of having a woman organizer.

Miss Hannah Longmore has been appointed school commissioner of Trenton, N. J., the first woman to hold the office.

SEVERELY WOUNDED
IN ACTION JULY 20

Washington, July 19.—Twenty-seven Marine casualties and 73 army casualties were reported today. David Lawrence McCracken, of Clearfield, Pa., was among the wounded severely reported by General Pershing.

Mr. and Mrs. John M. McCracken of West Sixth avenue, received an official notification from the War Department at Washington last evening to the effect that their son, David L. McCracken, had been severely wounded in action "somewhere in France" on July 2d last.

Young McCracken enlisted in the regular army at the DuBois recruiting office last June and has been in France for several months.

Mr. and Mrs. McCracken have two other sons in the army "over there".

We have been asked the question many times about how soon we would receive the list of casualties following the terrific fighting of the past week, and will use this story to illustrate our answer. By reference to the date on which young McCracken was wounded it will be seen that two weeks has elapsed before word of the happening was received by his people. That is about the usual procedure. It takes all of that time to compare the records and get the word from headquarters in France to Washington and from thence to the next of kin named by the soldier in his enlistment record. The word is at once sent to the family by the Washington authorities and upon the home folks receiving the notice the name is then placed in the list of casualties for publication by the newspapers.

By Fred S. Ferguson
With the Champagne, July 19. 2 p. m.—The battle is increasing in intensity on the whole front from the Aisne to the Marne as this is cabled. The Americans and French are driving forward in an extended advance toward the main highway from Soissons to Chateau-Thierry, which lies 3 to 10 miles east of the original line. The Germans, aided by great numbers of reserves, made heavy counter attacks on the plateau southwest of Soissons. It was bloodily repulsed. Americans and French in that region continue to hold the line established yesterday evening and are advancing eastward. Cavalry is assisting on the Soissons-Chateau-Thierry road and the infantry is arriving. Unaccounted prisoners and huge masses of war material is still accumulating. The remarkable transport system of the Allies is enabling them to maintain a flow of men and supplies to the front. As the line advanced solidly miles of motor trucks carrying ammunition went forward. They returned with slightly wounded men. Men and guns are in the fight a few minutes after the trucks arrive.

PERSHING'S REPORT

Washington, July 19.—Penetration of the German lines by the American troops together with the capture of prisoners and guns Thursday was reported by General Pershing today. "American troops cooperating with the French in an attack on the enemy positions between the Aisne and the Marne penetrated the first line of defense several miles, taking many prisoners and guns," the communique said.

MINERS OF CENTRAL PENNSYLVANIA
DID THEMSELVES PROUD LAST WEEK

The production of coal in the Central Pennsylvania district for the week ending July 13th has exceeded the production for any single week in the history of the industry in this region. The officials of the Fuel Administration and the Central Pennsylvania Producers Association are jubilant over the showing made during the period.

They state that the figures are beginning to show the results of the campaign recently inaugurated for the increase in coal production by the Central Pennsylvania Coal Producers Association.

Central Pennsylvania produced last week 1,327,500 tons of coal. During the week ending July 6th, 854,613 tons were produced. This was the week of the Fourth. The week ending June 29th was a full week and the production was 1,142,420 tons or an increase over the week ending June 29th of 185,000 tons. In this manner are the miners attesting their loyalty and patriotism and doing their utmost for their country.

Central Pennsylvania, being one of the most important coal fields in the United States, this increase in production will be heartily welcomed by the fuel administration officials at Washington.

Reuben Peale, of the U. S. Fuel Administration who is visiting Altoona today, states that it is the wish of the fuel administration that all of the victories of our allies be celebrated in the evening by the coal miners in the district to the end that the production of coal will not be curtailed. This is a vital moment in the history of the industry for upon it depends the success of the war and the boys in the trenches may not want for munitions, food nor any of these things that will bring this war to a successful close.

To which conclusion—the absolute and complete defeat of Germany, in other words, to celebrate by an increased production of coal to overcome the increased demands made by the war.

The splendid cooperation of the International official of the U. M. W. of A. President Frank J. Hayes, vice president, J. L. Lewis together with the good work of many district and local officials of that organization is responsible for the wonderful showing of the miners and operators who have taken up this situation in all serious

London's first regularly organized club for women, the Somerville, was formed 40 years ago.

It shows what can be done by conscientious cooperation and when both employer and employee get the win-the-war spirit.

The Central Pennsylvania Coal Producers Association states that the goal set for the central Pennsylvania field of 1,300,000 tons per week has been exceeded and a new mark set for the future in the amount of 1,400,000 per week.

FRIDAY EVENING, JULY 19, 1918.

Once more Clearfielders have had a sample of what an irresponsible news agency can do to upset the peace, quiet and sobriety of our city. Early this morning we heard that "150,000 German prisoners had been taken by the Americans". What would you have thought of us as a newspaper if we had put that foolish story on a bulletin and added, "We hope it is true"?

CONVERT YOUR COUPON BONDS

Coupon Liberty Bonds may be stolen or lost and as they are payable "to the bearer" they would be as so much cash to the thief or the finder as the case may be. Secretary Baker strongly urges the conversion of coupon bonds to registered bonds for this reason. The simplest way to convert a coupon bond is to consult your banker. Your 3 1-2 or 4 per cent. bond may also be converted into a 4 1-4 per cent. bond. Your banker will attend to this also.

THE WAR NOT WON

Much as we would like to see the war end by a terrific smash from the boys wearing the emblem of the United States Army, we cannot take the view of many of our friends that the present engagement is a final or even an important one; it is too small in scope and territory to have any great bearing on the final outcome of the struggle which has turned a continuous 300 mile line into seething flame and destruction. We do not want to discount the glorious victory one iota but as there are those who cannot understand why there should be a necessity to inflict many, many defeats upon the Hun, we feel that we should call attention to this matter. We want to shout at every victory but we are reserving our most lusty shouts for the day, several months hence when the Hun will be driven back to his own soil and there ground into the dust from which he sprang.

A WORD TO THE FRIENDS OF CHAUTAUQUA

The preliminary report of the Ticket Selling Committee revealed the fact that considerable number of people, who in other years have been in the habit of buying Chautauqua tickets, now feel constrained by reason of the unusual demands which the War has made upon them, to withhold this customary support. This situation has made it increasingly difficult for the Local Chautauqua Association to meet its obligations.

This Committee is not unmindful of the many appeals which have been made and are being made to the people of this community, but we wish to impress you with the following fact: The Chautauqua Association is not organized for profit. Anything that may be realized above expenses one year is used for the betterment of the program on the following year. This enables them to give us a quality of entertainment and instruction which would otherwise be unattainable at anything like the price.

The Chautauqua is a vital factor in building up and keeping up the morale of the people in these War times. President Wilson has spoken of it as "a patriotic institution that may be said to be an integral part of the national defense" and he has expressed the hope that the people will not fail in the support of it.

The Chautauqua for this year is assured. The program promises to be better than ever before. The danger which we face lies in the fact that if there is any marked falling off in the support this year it may be difficult, if not impossible, to continue the movement another year.

The canvassers have not yet completed their work. If you have not yet purchased your season ticket we urge you to do so this week so as to not endanger the success of this community enterprise.

The Executive Committee.

The "Different" Tire

You can tell Ajax Tires by their special features. They are plain to see and there for reason. For the reason you want miles, you want comfort, too—and uniform service.

AJAX Shoulders of Strength

make this tire different from every other. See, in the picture, just how these supporting shoulders are built out to reinforce and cushion the tread. This means more rubber where it should be—extra strength where the road strain comes. No other tire has this excess mileage feature. Ajax controls the patents.

AJAX ROAD KING

is a different non-skid tire. It proves its worth in amazing mileage records. A monarch in quality, a democrat in service. Ajax Shoulders of Strength give it more tread on the road—more resilience—more fighting stuff for the road battle. See the big triangle bars, an added safety factor. Come in and let's talk Ajax Tires and Ajax Tubes.

HOUTZDALE READY TO GIVE FIREMEN ROYAL WELCOME

Fred Sherkel of Houtzdale, was in Clearfield on business yesterday and while here informed us that his town was arranging to take care of the District Firemen's association in its usual fine style. He says the local committee has decided to make it a two day convention. The business session and banquet will be held Wednesday, August 21st and the parade on the 22nd.

An effort is being made to have State President Bonnell attend the convention and an invitation will also be extended to Senator Sprout, the Republican candidate for governor to be present.

SIXTY MEMBERS OF PERSHING CLUB HERE

The Pershing Thousand Dollar club has done it! The membership has now mounted to sixty, just double the number of members first specified. Not that all. The committee is confident of still further opportunities, of which they will surely take advantage.

When in the stores you see such signs as "That quarter change will buy a Thrift Stamp," or "Buy Thrift Stamps. They will win the war," you know that the committee on agents has been busy. There are now some eighty or ninety agents for Thrift stamps in the various stores and business places. With such constant reminders Thrift stamps ought to sell speedily.

July 20, which is tomorrow, was the date set for the end of this campaign, but with our subscriptions still below our quota, and such evidences of Clearfield's possibilities as street soliciting, the Pershing club, W. S. S. secretaries and campaigns in the industrial plants have produced, we cannot stop now. The work will continue until the quota is wholly or more nearly filled.

Mid-Summer Finds This Store Splendidly Prepared to Meet Your Every Summer Need and Make Shopping Here A Pleasure and A Comfort

For years we have been called "The Summer Store of Clearfield". So this is to announce that the same identical plans have been followed this Summer to make it cool and attractive.

1. A spirit of rest and calmness permeates the store.
2. Electric fans keep going at a steady pace all day long.

3. A breeze wanders through the store while the thermometer outside is registering 100 degrees.
4. Ice cold water has been provided to add to your comfort while shopping.

5. Stocks have been re-arranged to emphasize the various groups of mid-summer merchandise.

Remember—to maintain your health and vitality through the months of July and August, it is necessary to wear loose, sheer clothes and change them often. The home, too, must be arranged so as to appear cool and restful; furnishings of the right kind will help wonderfully.

So the SUMMER STORE bids you welcome; to come here often, see the new arrivals for Summer and enjoy your shopping trips to the fullest extent.

YANK SNAP TOO MUCH FOR THE HUNS

RAINBOW DIVISION AND NEW ENGLAND
TROOPS ROUT HINDENBURG HORDESSOISSONS EXPECTED TO FALL INTO THE HANDS OF THE YANKEES AND FRENCH
YANKS TAKE 20,000 PRISONERS

DENT IN HUN LINES 10 MILES DEEP

Paris, July 19.—The great Allied offensive was resumed at dawn today on an extended line as Americans and French swept forward over a 25-mile front between the Aisne and the Marne. Franco-American and Italian forces were conducting another counter-smash from the Marne northeast toward Rheims. The French official statement reported an initial push. The German dangerous salient in the Marne is now under assault from both sides.

The British made successful raids at Lore, taking prisoners and machine guns. Enemy attacks around Vilers-Bretenneaux were broken up. Field Marshal Haig reported.

Germany may be preparing for a bold stroke with her navy. Dispatches from London said that it was authoritatively reported that there is great activity in the German great fleet at Kiel.

Development of the American smash today left no doubt that the doughboys had carried fresh snap and dash into the Allied operations on the western front. Advancing like veterans behind the little French "fly tanks" Americans made quick work cleaning up towns and field positions of the enemy. One American unit alone took 3,300 prisoners in the fighting up to 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Officers had the greatest difficulty in restraining their men from going forward. Enemy resistance was quickly broken down at most points. Panic-stricken by the huge numbers of Americans pouring in on them in unexpected numbers, the enemy abandoned artillery, machine guns, rifles and supplies of all kinds. Between the Aisne and the Ourcq an American unit took 150 pieces of artillery.

At some points the American advance was so rapid that the cooks rolling up their kitchen forward were unable to keep up with their customers. One American commander repeatedly sought permission to allow the troops to advance beyond their objectives.

"I fear it would be too much the boys can't go that far," his superior said.

"The hell they can't," the commander retorted, "anywhere I ask my boys to go they go."

Americans returning from the front slightly wounded were full of pep and displayed bags of souvenirs. One boy told Fred S. Ferguson, United Press staff correspondent at the front, that the Germans left the trenches at the approach of the Americans and fled eastward.

"It sure gave me a glorious feeling to see the 'heinie' scrambling around like rats," he declared.

Another said "me and another fellow in the first wave was lucky. We got more of 'em and more souvenirs than the clean up bunch that came over after us."

The Americans made clean work of woods, forests, towns and villages. The advancing infantry did not carry machine guns; they depended mostly on rifles, bayonets and guns. Later the supporting infantry carried up machine guns then came the artillery and later the heavy artillery were brought up as the Yankees established their positions. American reserves riding along on trucks ate slum and beans as they bounced over the uneven road. They had not eaten in 24 hours, but were grinning over the rapidity of the advance and the prospect of eating some of the "heinie's".

American, French and Italians continued today to carry the battle on the western front toward the enemy. Violent action occurred over a front of 100 miles. Despite the employment of one-half of the reserves, the Germans were unable to stem the Allied tide. In the region of Soissons the Germans threw great masses of men into desperate counter attacks. After bloodily repulsing the Boche the Americans went through the reinforced lines to substantial gains.

Soissons, one of the most important strategic centers held by the Germans, is expected to fall into the French and American hands soon. It is said the Germans are destroying large quantities of stuff to prevent it falling into the Allies' hands.

The Allies have taken the initiative and the Germans are on the defensive everywhere, an official statement issued by the Allied high command, declared this afternoon. The statement was issued at 4 p. m.

In the first smash today the Americans advanced to a depth of from 2 to 4 miles over a 25 mile front between the Aisne and the Marne. The total penetration in the two days has been more

CALL THE PROGRESS

If it is true we will have it; if you hear it and it sounds like news and you're not sure, call us; we will have it, alright. Otherwise, go slow on rumors just now.

AN EXTRACT FROM THE FRENCH REPORT

than 10 miles at some points. Eager Americans have swept forward far beyond the objectives marked out for them.

Northeast of Chateau-Thierry French and Italians with some Americans launched another offensive over a 15 mile front simultaneously with the resumption of the Aisne-Marne drive. The effect of this has been to put the enemy in a most dangerous position near Rheims, threatening great bodies of troops with annihilation or capture.

Military authorities today declared that it is entirely probable that the greatest netting of German prisoners in the history of the western front fighting will result unless Hindenburg abandons his present position on the western front. Prisoners taken are literally beyond estimation. They are pouring back of the Allied lines so rapidly that they have been declared a hindrance to the advance. The French early today counted more than 10,000 prisoners taken by their own troops. One American unit alone had taken 3,300 prisoners.

It is entirely probable that the Americans have taken 20,000 so far. The count of big guns, field pieces and artillery is only partial.

Two divisions—the Rainbow and the New Englanders—are engaged in the great offensive as a unit. Parts of eight other American divisions participated in the check of the enemy on the Marne. In addition to the two divisions other American divisions are brigaded with the French. Americans in France now total 1,300,000 and it is likely one-fifth are chasing the Hun on the Soissons-Chateau-Thierry road and up and down the Marne. Up to a late hour the situation was considered very satisfactory and highly encouraging to the Allies. A marked slump in the German morale is so prominent that the Kaiser had not dared to tell his people that the Americans were largely responsible for the great German reverses.

The latest bulletin was received at The Progress office last evening about ten o'clock at which time it was reported that the American forces had taken four thousand prisoners and thirty big guns along with other war material. Previous to this dispatch, Pershing and the department at Washington had fully confirmed the United Press dispatches carried in this paper in the afternoon to the effect that the Yanks had captured many towns and added that the advance into Hun territory had reached as much as four miles on certain points.

This morning great jubilation was felt and manifested in many nearby cities over the reports of the successes of the Yanks and this enthusiasm has continued throughout the day. In Altoona patriotic engineers have given vent to their feelings by the blowing of whistles at frequent intervals. These outbursts of enthusiasm are to a great degree responsible for the wild rumors over the country today.

At nine o'clock this morning the situation was as follows: "Yanks had thrown Huns back four to five miles. Had taken at least eighteen villages and towns. Had taken four thousand prisoners and 30 big guns."

A dispatch received at ten o'clock stated as follows: "Franco-American forces continue advance in the vicinity of Chateau-Thierry and now are within sight of Soissons. French have taken 10,000 prisoners and the Yanks have a string of 5,000."

The canning demonstration at the High school auditorium yesterday afternoon was well attended by Clearfield housewives who showed great interest in the work of Miss Margaret Berry of the Home Economics Extension department of State College. The demonstration was in charge of Miss Philip Reed, chairman and Miss Berry was assisted by Miss Lillie Wrigley and Lida Stage who recently took a canning course at State College and are ready to give local demonstrations.

COUNTER ATTACKING RESERVES OF

SEVERELY WOUNDED
IN ACTION JULY 20

Washington, July 19.—Twenty-seven Marine casualties and 73 army casualties were reported today. David Lawrence McCracken, of Clearfield, Pa., was among the wounded severely reported by General Pershing.

Mr. and Mrs. John M. McCracken of West Sixth avenue, received an official notification from the War Department at Washington last evening to the effect that their son, David L. McCracken, had been severely wounded in action "somewhere in France" on July 2d last.

Young McCracken enlisted in the regular army at the DuBois recruiting office last June and has been in France for several months.

Mr. and Mrs. McCracken have two other sons in the army "over there".

We have been asked the question many times about how soon we would receive the list of casualties following the terrific fighting of the past week, and will use this story to illustrate our answer. By reference to the date on which young McCracken was wounded it will be seen that two weeks has elapsed before word of the happening was received by his people. That is about the usual procedure. It takes all of that time to compare the records and get the word from headquarters in France to Washington and from thence to the next of kin named by the soldier in his enlistment record. The word is at once sent to the family by the Washington authorities and upon the home folks receiving the notice the name is then placed in the list of casualties for publication by the newspapers.

AREN'T OUR BOYS CLEVER?

(By United Press)

Washington, July 19.—DON'T WASTE; A WHITE CHIP MAY CALL THE KAISER'S BLUFF. This and the following are slogans jotted down by soldier Americans over there to encourage food conservation at home:

"Saving scraps over here will save the SCRAP over there;" "Waste food, and knife men in the back;" "Conservation Kills—Kaiserism;" "Fight to Conserve; Conserve to Fight."

By Fred S. Ferguson

With the Champagne, July 19, 2 p. m.—The battle is increasing in intensity on the whole front from the Aisne to the Marne as this is cabled. The Americans and French are driving forward in an extended advance toward the main highway from Soissons to Chateau-Thierry, which lies 3 to 10 miles east of the original line. The Germans, aided by great numbers of reserves, made heavy counter attacks on the plateau southwest of Soissons. It was bloodily repulsed. Americans and French in that region continue to hold the line established yesterday evening and are advancing eastward. Cavalry is assisting on the Soissons-Chateau-Thierry road and the infantry is arriving. Unaccounted prisoners and huge masses of war material is still accumulating. The remarkable transport system of the Allies is enabling them to maintain a flow of men and supplies to the front. As the line advanced solidly miles of motor trucks carrying ammunition went forward. They returned with slightly wounded men. Men and guns are in the fight a few minutes after the trucks arrive.

PERSHING'S REPORT

Washington, July 19.—Penetration of the German lines by the American troops together with the capture of prisoners and guns Thursday was reported by General Pershing today. "American troops cooperating with the French in an attack on the enemy positions between the Aisne and the Marne penetrated the first line of defense several miles, taking many prisoners and guns," the communique said.

MINERS OF CENTRAL PENNSYLVANIA
DID THEMSELVES PROUD LAST WEEK

The production of coal in the Central Pennsylvania district for the week ending July 13th has exceeded the production for any single week in the history of the industry in this region. The officials of the Fuel Administration and the Central Pennsylvania Producers Association are jubilant over the showing made during the period.

They state that the figures are beginning to show the results of the campaign recently inaugurated for the increase in coal production by the Central Pennsylvania Coal Producers Association.

Central Pennsylvania produced last week 1,327,500 tons of coal. During the week ending July 6th, 854,613 tons were produced. This was the week of the Fourth. The week ending June 29th was a full week and the production was 1,142,420 tons or an increase over the week ending June 29th of 185,000 tons. In this manner are the miners attesting their loyalty and patriotism and doing their utmost for their country.

Central Pennsylvania, being one of the most important coal fields in the United States, this increase in production will be heartily welcomed by the fuel administration officials at Washington.

Reuben Peale, of the U. S. Fuel Administration who is visiting Altoona today, states that it is the wish of the fuel administration that all of the victories of our allies be celebrated in the evening by the coal miners in the district to the end that the production of coal will not be curtailed. This is a vital moment in the history of the industry for upon it depends the success of the war and the boys in the trenches may not want for munitions, food nor any of these things that will bring this war to a successful close.

To which conclusion—the absolute and complete defeat of Germany, in other words, to celebrate by an increased production of coal to overcome the increased demands made by the war.

The splendid cooperation of the International official of the U. M. W. of A. President Frank J. Hayes, vice president, J. L. Lewis together with the good work of many district and local officials of that organization is responsible for the wonderful showing of the miners and operators who have taken up this situation in all serious

PATRIOTIC MEETING AT BOARDMAN ON SUNDAY NEXT

The employees of the Potts Run Coal company at Boardman, Pa., who have shown their 100 per cent patriotism in all the various subscriptions for Liberty bonds, Red Cross, etc., recently made a voluntary subscription for a large United States flag and also for a service flag which has been dedicated and raised along with the Liberty Loan honor flag on Sunday afternoon, July 21st, at three o'clock at Boardman, Pa. The Liberty chorus has kindly offered their services and a good band has been engaged for the occasion.

The Potts Run Coal company has in the past year made wonderful improvements to their town of Boardman. The old houses have all been repaired and painted and about fifty new houses erected. At present about 400 men are employed and the company cordially extends an invitation to everyone to go to Boardman on Sunday afternoon and help make this patriotic occasion a success. The miners of this district are doing a large part in the winning of this war and the interest shown by your presence will be an inspiration to these men.

The speakers will include Charles O'Neil formerly with the United Mine Workers of America and now secretary of the Coal Producers Association and other prominent speakers.

FRIDAY EVENING, JULY 19, 1918.

Once more Clearfielders have had a sample of what an irresponsible news agency can do to upset the peace, quiet and sobriety of our city. Early this morning we heard that "150,000 German prisoners had been taken by the Americans". What would you have thought of us as a newspaper if we had put that foolish story on a bulletin and added, "We hope it is true"?

CONVERT YOUR COUPON BONDS

Coupon Liberty Bonds may be stolen or lost and as they are payable "to the bearer" they would be as so much cash to the thief or the finder as the case may be. Secretary Baker strongly urges the conversion of coupon bonds to registered bonds for this reason. The simplest way to convert a coupon bond is to consult your banker. Your 3 1-2 or 4 per cent. bond may also be converted into a 4 1-4 per cent. bond. Your banker will attend to this also.

THE WAR NOT WON

Much as we would like to see the war end by a terrific smash from the boys wearing the emblem of the United States Army, we cannot take the view of many of our friends that the present engagement is a final or even an important one; it is too small in scope and territory to have any great bearing on the final outcome of the struggle which has turned a continuous 300 mile line into seething flame and destruction. We do not want to discount the glorious victory one iota but as there are those who cannot understand why there should be a necessity to inflict many, many defeats upon the Hun, we feel that we should call attention to this matter. We want to shout at every victory but we are reserving our most lusty shouts for the day, several months hence when the Hun will be driven back to his own soil and there ground into the dust from which he sprang.

A WORD TO THE FRIENDS OF CHAUTAUQUA

The preliminary report of the Ticket Selling Committee revealed the fact that considerable number of people, who in other years have been in the habit of buying Chautauqua tickets, now feel constrained by reason of the unusual demands which the War has made upon them, to withhold this customary support. This situation has made it increasingly difficult for the Local Chautauqua Association to meet its obligations.

This Committee is not unmindful of the many appeals which have been made and are being made to the people of this community, but we wish to impress you with the following fact: The Chautauqua Association is not organized for profit. Anything that may be realized above expenses one year is used for the betterment of the program on the following year. This enables them to give us a quality of entertainment and instruction which would otherwise be unattainable at anything like the price.

The Chautauqua is a vital factor in building up and keeping up the morale of the people in these War times. President Wilson has spoken of it as "a patriotic institution that may be said to be an integral part of the national defense" and he has expressed the hope that the people will not fail in the support of it.

The Chautauqua for this year is assured. The program promises to be better than ever before. The danger which we face lies in the fact that if there is any marked falling off in the support this year it may be difficult, if not impossible, to continue the movement another year.

The canvassers have not yet completed their work. If you have not yet purchased your season ticket we urge you to do so this week so as to not endanger the success of this community enterprise.

The Executive Committee.

HOUTZDALE READY TO GIVE FIREMEN ROYAL WELCOME

Fred Sherkel of Houtzdale, was in Clearfield on business yesterday and while here informed us that his town was arranging to take care of the District Firemen's association in its usual fine style. He says the local committee has decided to make it a two day convention. The business session and banquet will be held Wednesday, August 21st and the parade on the 22nd.

An effort is being made to have State President Bonnell attend the convention and an invitation will also be extended to Senator Sprout, the Republican candidate for governor to be present.

SIXTY MEMBERS OF PERSHING CLUB HERE

The Pershing Thousand Dollar club has done it! The membership has now mounted to sixty, just double the number of members first specified. Not that all. The committee is confident of still further opportunities, of which they will surely take advantage.

When in the stores you see such signs as "That quarter change will buy a Thrift Stamp," or "Buy Thrift Stamps. They will win the war," you know that the committee on agents has been busy. There are now some eighty or ninety agents for Thrift stamps in the various stores and business places. With such constant reminders Thrift stamps ought to sell speedily.

July 20, which is tomorrow, was the date set for the end of this campaign, but with our subscriptions still below our quota, and such evidences of Clearfield's possibilities as street soliciting, the Pershing club, W. S. S. secretaries and campaigns in the industrial plants have produced, we cannot stop now. The work will continue until the quota is wholly or more nearly filled.

NEWS OF OUR NEIGHBORS CURWENSVILLE

All Curwensville readers of The Progress should make immediate arrangements with T. and R. K. Way for the paper every evening. Owing to the cutting out of the return privilege, Mr. Way will have papers for only his regular subscribers. Give Mr. Way your subscription today and make sure of getting a paper every evening.

A party of Curwensville people went to Camp Bonar, Lumber City, today and will spend the next week or 10 days there.

Curwensville and Lumber City played a game on the home grounds on Tuesday which resulted in a tie, 4-4 and a decision to play another game at some near date. Today the Curwensville team and Crescent team played the 4th game of the series at Athletic park. Score 27-5 in favor home team.

The Curwensville Progress representative has inadvertently omitted to mention the handsomely printed blotters that Printer Fred Robinson was distributing among his business patrons and friends. It is not a difficult job, when once you have read it, to know just what use it is to you, both in business and private life.

Both Mrs. Isaac Black and Mrs. Bunetti, received the clothing of their sons, who went to Camp Lee with the last consignment of troops, Wednesday. They do not know whether or not the bags carried a mute message for an early France shipment of their regiment or whether the government has supplied the both with all the clothing necessary.

Mrs. Matilda Brainard called at the Progress man's home Wednesday and found him unable to galavant around with his actual activity. We were certainly well pleased to see the lady and learn that she is getting along nicely. She makes her home with Paul Brainard, the youngest son, who holds a good job with an adding machine company at Dayton, Ohio. Charley and "Bill" Brainard are located in Alaska, the latter conducting a small daily paper in one of the smaller towns in the north country, while Charley is employed by a railroad company. Neither brother had met for thirteen years, and not aware of each other's presence in the arctic region until they happened to meet one another on one of the main streets. John, the oldest brother, holds a secretaryship in the office of the Lancaster Water company.

One often hears the remark repeated, when a prominent and influential citizen passes away by death or removes to another community, "What will we do now that he has gone." An apt illustration of one man stepping into another man's shoe, and pushing things along, just comes to our mind: F. S. Stone was the first superintendent and general foreman for the big finishing tannery here and conducted along his individual line of making fancy and domestic leathers for the market. Stone decided to change location and enter the tannery business for himself. John Blake, who came to Curwensville shortly after the big tannery was built and finished, 1891, was supposed to be assistant manager. Great was Stone's joy when he learned that Mr. Blake had been appointed to succeed Stone, and he vastly underestimated Mr. Blake's ability of conducting a tannery as large as this one, and he indulged in one of his ungentlemanly remarks (for which he was noted about the plant) that Blake "could not run the tannery successfully 48 hours." Mr. Blake assumed the superintendency and went to work in earnest. In a few days he had a perfect organization among the men; he has put out more leather per day than Stone ever did, has had perfect harmony among the men and business men to whom his leather is sold. He has put on the market some of the largest war orders for leather from any tannery operated by the P. H. & L. company and is working on and turning out a war order for shoes at the rate of from 750 to 1000 sides daily, besides numberless smaller orders for other fancy leathers used for saddle bags, etc. This one phase along man's value to a community is only one of many thousands taking place in the United States daily, yet the town moves forward along business lines just as in days when other prominent men and financiers were at the wheel.

OBITUARY

EDMUND DALE, 89, DIES AT FARM HOME

Edmund Dale, widely known throughout this region, died at his home in Bradford township, Clearfield county, on Wednesday evening, July 17, 1918, at 8 p. m. He had been ill only for a brief time.

Born in Philipsburg October 11, 1829, Mr. Dale was well on in his eighty-ninth year at the time of his death. His parents were Mr. and Mrs. John Dale, the former being the son of Joseph and Mary Dale, of Manchester, England, who came to Philipsburg back in 1819, when Hardman Phillips was having his struggle to found that town in the heart of what was then a great American wilderness. The Dale family is properly regarded as one of the oldest in this section of the state.

The subject of this sketch was one of ten children, all of whom are now dead with the exception of one brother, David, of Bradford township, and one sister, Mrs. Gwen Graham, of Grahampton. He was married in 1856 to Miss Eliza Jane Hunter of Morris township, who, with the following children survive namely: Wilbur F. of Madera; Dr. Wallace H., of Houtzdale; Dr. John A., of Philipsburg; Andrew C., of Bloomingfield, N. J.; Roland E., of Bradford township; Dr. William E., of Altoona; Ernest H., of Philadelphia and Mrs. Lynn McDowell, of Altoona. There are also fifteen grandchildren and one great grandchild of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Dale. It will be noticed that three of their sons are in the medical pro-

Punxsutawney

Edmund Dale engaged in the early lumbering operations of Clearfield county and later followed farming. His father was probably the first and only man in Philipsburg who was a hatter by trade, and who followed the trade here. On three different occasions he walked to Philadelphia to order good for his shop, the stock being transported by wagon. He moved to Bradford township when Edmund Dale was five years of age. There the father again engaged in the hat making business. He became one of the extensive landowners and prosperous men of the community.

Virtually all of the older people in this region knew Edmund Dale, and they knew him to be a fine, genial man, one with whom it was a real pleasure to associate and converse with. His aged wife and all but one of his eight children Ernest H., of Philadelphia, were at his bedside when death came and claimed the faithful and kind husband and father.

The deceased was affiliated with the Bradford or Dale as it was more familiarly known, Methodist church, for years. He was long a trustee and official of the church.

The funeral will take place from the homestead at 10:30 o'clock Saturday morning, with interment in the Dale church cemetery.

HOUTZDALE PIONEER DIED YESTERDAY

Neal Daugherty, one of the pioneer residents of the Houtzdale coal region passed peacefully into rest eternal at his home in Houtzdale at two o'clock Wednesday morning, aged about 80 years. Mr. Daugherty was one of the very first miners to locate at Houtzdale when the first opening was made at Sterling and has resided there ever since. He was a "true old Irish gentleman" of the old school and possessed an exceptionally wide circle of friends throughout this entire region.

He was a dyed-in-the-wool Jeffersonian Democrat, with the courage of his convictions at all times and took a great deal of interest in public affairs.

He had been in failing health for several months and his death was not unexpected.

His funeral will be held from St. Lawrence Catholic Church Saturday morning at 9 o'clock. Interment in Catholic cemetery at Houtzdale.

YOUNG FOLKS ENJOYED DANCE

The dance at the park last evening was largely attended and very much enjoyed by Clearfield, Curwensville and Philipsburg young people. Max's Melody Mixture orchestra from Philipsburg furnished delightful music.

EDMUND DALE'S FUNERAL

The funeral of the late Edmund Dale will be held from the Dale homestead in Bradford township at 10:30 o'clock Saturday morning. Interment in Dale cemetery. Rev. Rose, of Woodland, will officiate.

Mid-Summer Finds This Store Splendidly Prepared to Meet Your Every Summer Need and Make Shopping Here A Pleasure and A Comfort

For years we have been called "The Summer Store of Clearfield". So this is to announce that the same identical plans have been followed this Summer to make it cool and attractive.

1. A spirit of rest and calmness permeates the store.
2. Electric fans keep going at a steady pace all day long.

3. A breeze wanders through the store while the thermometer outside is registering 100 degrees.
4. Ice cold water has been provided to add to your comfort while shopping.

5. Stocks have been re-arranged to emphasize the various groups of mid-summer merchandise.

Remember—to maintain your health and vitality through the months of July and August, it is necessary to wear loose, sheer clothes and change them often. The home, too, must be arranged so as to appear cool and restful; furnishings of the right kind will help wonderfully.

So the SUMMER STORE bids you welcome; to come here often, see the new arrivals for Summer and enjoy your shopping trips to the fullest extent.
